PRAYERS FOR WASHINGTON MARCH

The 'March on Washington' perhaps the largest mass demonstration in our nation's history, had a little echo in Wilmington on Tuesday evening.

There has been much debate as to the wisdom of the massive demonstration, with many intelligent people believing that it could have done more harm than good for the cause of those who were sponsoring it.

On Tuesday night, before the March, a group of about 100 Catholic and Protestant Christians gathered for prayers and intercessions on behalf of the historic 'March on Washington'.

Prayers were offered for full racial justice, in this Wilmington gathering, for a solution to the problems of unemployment, for the unity of mankind in every area of suffering and need.

Included in the prayers were the lives of those who must tackle the thorny and often exceedingly difficult problem of legislation.

It should be clear that the Christians do not necessarily agree with the details of the avowed legislative objectives of the 'March' but is just as clear that the Christians corporately and individually wish to penitently identify themselves, concretely, and at any cost, with all who have for so long and so obviously suffered the pains and injustices of racial discrimination.

While this includes all racial minorities, the Christians are not unaware of the particular current urgency of the negro citizens of our country because of the contemporary events connected with their complaint and need.

In cooperation with those who sponsored the 'March on Washington', members of the several Wilmington churches distributed information on the 'March' and received contributions for the 'jobs and freedom' buttons at several locations in Wilmington on Wednesday while the rally in Washington was in progress.

THREE LITTLE MAIDS FROM OHIO ARE WE: And a school teacher from Tennessee, all of whom will be teaching in the Wilmington Public Schools this year.

Carolyn Gustely of Akron will teach High School Social Studies, Mary Frances Fox, also of Akron, will teach the 5th Grade in the North School, and Carole Schrock of Toledo will teach High School English. All are 1963 graduates of Miami University in Oxford Ohio and all decided they wanted to live in New England.

Mrs. Helen Underwood, (right) from Tennessee is to teach American History and Geography in the North School. She is the wife of the Rev. Joel Underwood, 85 Church Street, Associate Pastor of the Wilmington Methodist Church.

PLAN SEARCH FOR MORE WATER

The Wilmington Water Department is discussing the possibility of conducting a search in the area near Ballardvale Street, in North Wilmington, for additional water supply sources for the Town of Wilmington.

$36,000 is now available to the Department for financing such a search, not only in the North Wilmington area, but in any part of the town.

The money is being provided by the Housing Home & Finance division of the Federal government, under an Emergency Service contract executed on May 23, 1963.

The contract empowers the Water Department to employ Whitman and Howard, Engineers, of Boston, to conduct such a search, using the H E Smith Pump Co of Wilmington to do the drilling.

Members of the Board of Water Commissioners, last Thursday night, were skeptical of getting to use the 500,000 gallon a day supply in the Town Park, in spite of the report given to the Planning Board by TM Gerald Bouchard, two weeks ago. Bouchard had told the Planning Board that he was expecting a written confirmation from the Massachusetts Department of Public Health, of an informal agreement whereby the Water Commissioners could use the site as a supply and allow the base ball diamond to be used for sports purposes at the same time.

The Water Commissioners are planning the search for water in the Ballardvale Street area as a result of Bouchard's request that they consider alternatives for better water service to the North Industrial area, as part of the program that will improve parts of Ballardvale Street under the provisions of Chapter 90.

The Board of Selectmen have tentatively agreed to meet weekly, with every other meeting being an 'off' (unofficial) meeting. The board agreed Monday night to meet again the day after Labor Day to discuss Selectman Rene LaRivee's points about a possible Industrial Plan for Wilmington. Mr LaRivee, the newest member of the board, had a plan for pursuing further industrialization as a part of his campaign, while he ran for office. He also campaigned for weekly meetings by the Selectmen.

MURDER VICTIM TENTATIVELY IDENTIFIED

The body of a woman discovered yesterday afternoon near Route 93 has been tentatively identified as that of Clair Graham of Somerville, aged 29, who disappeared Monday evening, in Charlestown.

The body was discovered about 4:15 pm by Charles Guthrie, 52, of 32 Park Street.

Guthrie told the Town Crier that he had gone for an afternoon stroll behind Gowing Road, and had ventured towards the parking lot on Route 93, between Concord Street and Park Street, where he discovered the nude body in a clump of small pine and oak trees.

His attention to the spot where the body was found was drawn by the actions of two dogs, he said.

Guthrie was only about 10 feet from the parking lot when he made the discovery. He stepped out onto the superhighway, and the first car he saw was a Wilmington Police Cruiser, driven by Officer Joe Cuoco, who radioed the news of the gruesome find to Wilmington Police Headquarters.

A pair of black slacks was found about five feet from the body, but there were no other clues readily available.

The body of the red haired girl, tentatively identified as Mrs. Graham, was lying on its back. An imitation leopard jacket had been pulled up about her head, and was clotted with blood.

Dr Thomas Devlin, Middlesex County Medical Examiner said that the girl had been murdered, and that he believed she had a broken jaw, so that it appeared that she had been beaten.

The body was removed to the Cavanaugh Funeral Home, on Main Street, where Mrs. Graham's brother viewed it, later in the evening.

State Police Capt. Robert D Murgia of the Framingham Barracks, on the scene, said that the investigation would be in charge of Lt. Callahan of the Middlesex District Attorney's office.

Murgia said that the murder was one of the most brutal he had witnessed. He believed it occurred on the spot where the body was found.

It is believed to be the first murder in Wilmington since the Kelly Hill murder in 1933.

Wilmington Police at the site of the murder were headed by Sgt. Sidelink, and included, besides Officer Cuoco, Officer Leo Markey and Officer Tom Brennan.

THEY FIRST SAW THE BODY: Officer Joe Cuoco of the Wilmington Police, and Charles Guthrie Park Street

BALLARDVALE STREET AGAIN

Readers will remember how our Finest Town Manager, and Selectman John Brooks worked so hard on Ballardvale Street, and then after the new TM, Bouchard was in office a few months a great part of the proposal for doing the street under Chapter 90 was dropped like a hot potato.

Not that Bouchard didn't please Brooks, for that gentleman thought it was wonderful that a Town Manager could go out all by himself and settle nine out of ten incipient claims before they started.

Anyway the Selectmen voted to do Ballardvale Street to the home of Mrs Amy Whitten, just short of the point where they would run into the unsolved (and unseen by the Brains) problem of how to build a Middlesex County road in Essex County.

So now we have a new mystery, over which we can wonder in our spare time.

In the Selectmen's meeting of Monday (TM Bouchard being in Maine on vacation) it was casually stated that the town is being sued for damages on account of the construction on Ballardvale Street, by two estates on Ballardvale Street, that of Patsy Spinazola and Salvatore Spinazola.

But they lie 1500 feet northerly from the Whitten driveway, where the construction is supposed to end!

Is Bouchard doing some quiet planning in the section where Lancaster couldn't even see a problem, or -- just how does these two places fit into a construction problem that is 1500 feet away?

We'll have to wait until Jerry comes home for the answer to that.

ANYWAY, IT WAS UNIQUE

The Town Crier, which is sort of a one-man newspaper, has had some pretty bad weeks at times, getting things mixed up in weddings, (but not yet funerals), sporting events, and the Good Lord knows what.

Once we made a greivous error in a legal advertisement, and we are not sure that we are yet back in the good graces of the lawyers concerned.

And of course there was the time we printed a part of an advertisement upside down, at the behest of Harry Sandler, of the North Wilmington Pharmacy. Everyone went in and told Harry of the foolish error the Town Crier had made, and that just made Harry Happy, for he knew the paper was being read - so that's a different kind of horse.

But last week was really unique, as hundreds of delighted readers can and did testify. They had a real lark, telling us about it.

Every page of the Town Crier had the wrong date line - August 29, 1963!

And we defy any other newspaper to pull such a stupid trick!

MORE PROBLEMS

Next year the Wilmington Little League will be playing on two baseball diamonds, the one in back of the Glen Road School, and a new one in Rotary Park, courtesy of the Wilmington Rotarians and their friends.

And the forehead of the Chef De Gendarmes, the Honorable Paul Lynch, appears to be at least slightly wrinkled as a result.

In spite of allegations to the contrary made by his friends (?) Paul is able to think, and to foresee problems before they arise, and Paul is worrying about the youngster who is going to enthusiastically chase a foul ball across Middlesex Avenue into the path of an oncoming automobile, some time in the future.

He hasn't arrived at any conclusions yet, but it is possible that he might ask the Selectmen, for instance, to have that portion of Middlesex Avenue closed off while games are in progress.

Paul wouldn't try to stop the baseball. Too many kids are in Little League now. To stop it would be a major kind of crime, for both fields are badly needed.

But somehow the traffic, and the parking problem has to be solved.

Perhaps the Rotarians could give the Park to the town, now that it is nearly complete, and the town Park Department could take over.

There could be an enlarged parking area, off Adelaide Street.

If the Town Park does get closed, because of the New wellfield problem, a baseball park may be built in Rotary Park suitable for the Town teams, and in the fall it could be a football field too.

A part of the pool might have to be filled in if such an event were planned, but of course we could always keep part of it for Paul's exclusive use, if he needs it.

One never knows when a Chief of Police will be told to Go Jump in the Lake!

TOWN NOTES

Bee Hive

The kids have a new name for the Police Cruisers (white variety) Now its a Bee Hive, or, if the particular youngster is more articulate, the Travelling Bee Hive, referring, without doubt, to the blue 'flasher' on top.

But the unmarked cruiser is still 'Sneaky Dick'.

Vandalism

The way of small boys, or perhaps bigger one, and someone's unguarded property is hard to understand.

They delight in destruction. Let something be left unguarded and there is a good chance that it will be destroyed today.

During the past week someone has totally destroyed the candy concession at the Little League Park.

We hope no Little Leaguers were involved.

Ringside Report

One lady who didn't have to listen to the radio or watch the TV to find out about the March on Washington.

Mrs Ruth Gratecyk, of the Wilmington Placement Service had a virtually ringside report, by telephone, from her daughter Judy, in Washington DC

Judy a couple of years ago was 'Miss Massachusetts' and worked for Congressman Brad Morse, but now she is the secretary of an Ohio Senator.

Ruth heard the details, up until about 2 pm yesterday, direct by telephone from her daughter, who, incidentally, was not allowed to leave the office, but had to watch from a window.

Football

The Wilmington Chargers, our own pro (or semi-pro) football team is playing its first conference game this weekend.

Someone very kindly sent the Town Crier some notes on how to get to the game, which is being played in Connecticut, south of Springfield, but, like other things, it has been lost in the last minute rush.

If you really want to go call up John Ritchie and ask him how. He will appreciate it, too.

LWV PLANS EXECUTIVE COUNCIL CURB

LEAGUE OF WOMEN VOTERS OFFICERS: At the Tuesday night meeting: Fr. Mrs Joseph Cannon, 1st VP, Mrs Theodore McKie, President, and Mrs Harry Johnson, 2nd VP. Rear: Mrs Norbert Mader, Public Relations, Mrs Paul Bodenstein, CR Chairman, and Mrs William Hooper, who will chairmen the drive for signatures on Governor's Council reform.

Officers of the League of Women Voters of Wilmington, in a meeting in the Roman House, Tuesday night discussed the 1963 plans for a membership drive, for a study of Zoning in Wilmington, and, on the state level, for taking part in a state wide drive to curb the powers of the Executive Council.

The ladies are planning a membership coffee, at 8:30 pm Sept. 9th in the Legion Hall, at which time they hope to see many new faces in the organization.

Nationally the ladies committed themselves to a study of the United Nations and US foreign policy as it affects the economy of the world. Zoning in Wilmington is to be the local item of study by the League this year. The League feels that this topic will be of interest to many. They expect to study what the present Zoning Laws are, and how they effect Wilmington.

On the state level the League plans to take part in the state-wide drive to curb the powers of the Executive Council.

The Wilmington League plans to join the other local leagues to seek the signatures on a petition which is to go before the legislature next year. They will conduct a door to door campaign and give the Wilmington voter the opportunity to support this petition, which will reduce the Executive Council to the original position intended by the state constitution.

Other state organizations which are to take part in the campaign are the Jaycees, including the Wilmington Jaycees. Ronald C MacKenzie of the Burlington Jaycees is acting at the general chairman of the drive. The state headquarters are to be located at 12 Wilmington Road, in Burlington.

The League has expressed its hopes that many women in Wilmington will be interested in their program and will attend the membership coffee.

SANDRA BOUVIER IS BRIDE OF SAUGUS MAN

In a Sunday afternoon wedding in St Thomas Church, on August 4th Miss Sandra Ann Bouvier, daughter of Mr and Mrs L F Bouvier Jr of 356 Middlesex Avenue North Wilmington became the bride of Alan Nels Bloom, son of Mr and Mrs Nels Bloom, 59 Lincoln Avenue, Saugus.

The bride wore a full length gown with Chantilly lace top and sleeves. Her skirt was of silk organza with pearls, and a chapel length veil was held by a seed pearl coronet.

She carried a bouquet of white roses, with an orchid centerpiece.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, and the Rev. Paul Berube performed the ceremony.

Miss Joyce Carlton of Boutwell Street was the Maid of Honor. She wore a floor length gown designed with a detachable overskirt which, when removed, revealed a street length cocktail dress in pink and white. The dress featured a scoop neckline, and short sleeves enhanced with a perky row of buttons, from neckline to waist.

A lovely matching picture hat trimmed with flowers completed the costume.

The Bridesmaids were Mrs Joan Brothers of Tewksbury, a friend of the bride, Miss Karen Bloom of Saugus, a sister to the groom, and two cousins of the bride, Miss Jane and Miss Maureen Murphy, of Billerica and Malden.

The bridesmaids gowns were of aqua, with matching picture hats trimmed with flowers. They carried baskets of mixed flowers to match their gowns.

Mr Richard Bloom, brother of the Groom, was Best Man. The ushers were Mr Richard Hills and Mr Gordon Cole, both of Saugus, and Mr Donald L Bouvier of Wilmington, a brother of the bride. The guest book was in charge of Miss Gail Kind, of Rhode Island.

A reception was held in Moose Hall in North Reading, after the ceremony, with music by the Tony Barrie orchestra.

The bride's mother, for the reception, wore a nice green orange sheath, with matching accessories, while the mother of the groom was in a pink sheath, with matching accessories.

Guests were present from Rhode Island, Manchester NH, Dorchester, Billerica, Saugus, Salem, Lynn, Somerville, Melrose and Wilmington.

The honeymoon is being spent in Lake George, NY, after which the couple will make their home in Hyde Park, New York.

The new Mrs Bloom is a graduate of Wilmington High School and of the Boston Dispensary of Medical Technology.

Her husband is a graduate of Saugus High School and of North Eastern University, where he received a degree in Civil Engineering. He is employed by the State of New York, as a Civil Engineer.

KEN WILSON'S ORGAN WORKSHOP

MUSIC REFLECTS: Ken Wilson at one of his organs, and reflected in the mirror in front of him, as is a guest at another organ. To the far right his son is at a third one.

Labor Day, Sept. 2nd, is to be a Red Letter Day for Ken Wilson of 400 Andover Street, when New England's well known radio and television organist will open an Organ Workshop in his home.

The Organ Workshop is something new for Wilmington, or for New England, for that matter.

Designed in air conditioned comfort in simple modern decor to house the magnificent Conn Organs it is Ken's idea to present an opportunity for organ lovers to learn that organ music enhances leisure time.

Ken is not opening an organ-teaching class, but rather a studio where the organ students of other teachers, and other enthusiasts can meet monthly, or at other times, to discuss and learn more about the instruments, and the playing of them.

A resident of Wilmington for the past 8 years, Ken Wilson is the Music Director of WHDH Radio and Channel 5 in Boston, and has been on the daily Ken and Bill Show, on WHDH for many years, (with partner Bill Green at the keyboard and Lou Magnano on percussion) in an early evening radio program, Monday through Friday, 6:35 to 7 pm.

A graduate of the New England Conservatory of Music, and a former student of Homer C Humphrey and of the late Joseph Bonnet in Paris, Ken is known nationally from his success as a recording artist for both Columbia and RCA Victor.

In addition to the monthly Workshop Programs, he is to be available at his home every evening from 6 to 9 pm., and on Saturdays from 9 am to 6 pm, to help people select the right organ, or discuss organ problems.

And Labor Day is to be The Red Letter Day for Ken Wilson, when he opens his Organ Workshop Door for the first time to the public.

NOT QUITE ON THE LEVEL: An empty tank trailer ended up like this, Saturday morning, at the Concord Street intersection of Route 93. The driver of the tractor, on a south bound lane, probably lost his air pressure to his breaks. He knocked down a sign in the median-way, and ended up facing north on the northbound lane.

The trailer rolled over the 'well' behind the tractor, and fell down through the middle section. Firemen Fred Kleynan, JJ Burke and William P Nee stand by to cover the truck with foam, when it is lifted, as Officer Tony Langone watches for traffic. The Avco Fire Truck came down to help, too.

MACMELVILLE - HESS WEDDING

In a 2 pm ceremony, last Saturday, in the Wilmington Methodist Church, Miss Judith Marjorie Mac
Melville, daughter of Mr and Mrs
Arthur A MacMelville of 44 Grove Avenue became the bride of the Rev. G Alfred Hess Jr., son of Mr and Mrs G Alfred Hess Sr, of 539
Drexel Avenue, Trenton, N.J.

The Rev. Terry Clay Thomason, pastor of the church, performed the ceremony, and there were seven ordained clergymen who were present for the marriage of the former associate Pastor of the Wilmington Methodist Church.

A full choir sang 'Jesus With Kindest Pity, See' and 'Oh Perfect
Love. The organist was Mr Olin London.

The bride was given in marriage
by her father.

Mrs Thomas Fuller of Woburn, a sister of the bride, was the Matron of Honor, and the bridesmaids were Miss Anne Crispo of Wilmington, a friend of the bride, Miss Barbara Flanagan of Reading, a classmate of the bride, and Mrs David Zampese of Wilmington, a friend of the bride.

The Junior Bridesmaid was Miss Carol Lee MacMelville, a sister of the bride.

Mr Harman Clark, of Dunellon
New Jersey, a brother-in-law of the groom, served as Best Man.

The ushers were Mr Paul Mac-Melville of Wilmington, a brother of the bride, Mr Richard Pelletier of Wilmington, a friend of the groom, Mr David Adams of Trenton
New Jersey, a friend of the groom, Mr Thomas Fuller of Woburn, a brother in law of the bride, Mr Charles Mather of Wilmington, a friend of the groom, and Mr Harold Smith of Fitchburg, a friend of the groom.

Miss MacMelville carried a Rainbow White Bible, covered with cascades of white roses, waxed ivy and spephanotis.

Her gown, of white silk organza, had a detailed leaf design of crystals, pearls and iridescent sequins, which formed a bateau neck line, and accented the Basque bodice.

There were appliques of matching lace for the skirt, and the circular chapel length train was accented with a back bow with a cabbage rose in the center. A bouffant nylon butterfly veil fell from a cap of pearls in a petal flower design.

The attendants wore silk organza street length sheath dresses, designed with square necklines and bell shaped overskirts. They had matching cabbage rose headpieces and carried baskets of mixed flowers.

The matron of honor and the junior bridesmaid were in aqua, and the bridesmaids in apricot.

After the ceremony a reception was held in the church social hall.
Mrs Martin McMahon of Woburn, a cousin of the bride, was in charge of the guest book.

The mother of the bride chose an orchid silk organza dress with flowered appliques on the skirt, with a matching orchid, and a pill box hat, together with a pink rose corsage, for the reception.

The groom's mother was in a dress of mink brown, crepe sheath, with matching hat and accessories.

For her going away costume the bride chose an ensemble of blue and white, a linen sheath with a matching jacket. She wore a blue pill box hat and gloves, with white shoes and purse, and had a corsage of white roses.

YOUR
NORTH WILMINGTON
CENTER FRIENDS

BUSINESS? - OR FISHING? - OR MAYBE GUNS, Ralph Ryan is ready to talk all three, at one time if necessary, in his hardware store in North Wilmington Center.

The business men of the Nor Wilmington Center have many and varied reasons for being in the particular business that they conduct, and if Ralph Ryan were to be asked why he is in the Hardware Business (Ryan's Hardware) he could truthfully answer: It was because of a Woman!

But, before the reader begins to listen for background music of the 'Bury Me Out in the Lone Prairee' variety, let it be said that the Woman in this case is not a Femme Fatale, and actually had no part in the direct events that led to the forming of Ryans Hardware.

For she is Ralph's sister, Mrs John Elia, and it was only because she became the wife of one of the North Wilmington merchants that her brother ever thought of locating in North Wilmington too.

Ralph is an ex-Navy man. He served his time in the Caribbean
as a Metalsmith, Second Class.
When he was discharged he got a job as a Metalsmith, and then went to Evening School to make up for the Diploma he had failed to study for in earlier years.

After he had been working as a metalsmith for a couple of years he heard his brother-in-law, one evening say that a Hardware Store in North Wilmington ought to be a good business.

And right then and there Ralph decided to go into the Hardware Business!

He opened up three years ago,
having sold his car to help raise the capital necessary.

Hardware merchants say that a capital of $10,000 is necessary to open a hardware store, but Ralph had a total of $3200.

He made a go of it. There were times when he was wondering, but now he knows. He has moved into larger quarters, the better to serve his customers, and is doing nicely, thank you!

But Hardware is really, in one sense at least, a sideline, for Ralph will talk Fishing, or Guns, at the drop of a hat.

Over his desk is a copy of the US Coast & Geodetic Survey Chart of Plum Island, and it isn't there by chance. Ralph just loves to look at it, and point out where the biggest strippers were caught!

Maybe his customers go in the store to talk about hardware needs, but they are liable to come out talking about fishing!
